Event Coordinator. The narrator was a doctor prior to the world collapsing, and now lives in the walled city of Washington DC - cities exist pretty much on their own now, and the main rule is cleanliness above all else, otherwise you might catch the disease and become a "zombie". The story is told by a doctor in suburban Maryland who is on the front lines of discovering the disease, but finds himself quickly overwhelmed by a world that collapses into paranoia, fear and loneliness.

The book is believable, in spite of the "zombie" moniker, and I will probably read it. Published by Europa Editions. Can one man live up to this measure, when resources are scarce, life is cheap, and more than 60 years have already passed
